Tasha Philogene, MBA
Leader, Innovator, Changemaker, Advocate

Tasha Philogene is a Corporate Finance Director for NYC Health + Hospitals, the largest public health system in the US. In her capacity as director, Tasha leads the budgeting, reporting, and financial planning aspects of eleven acute care hospitals, five nursing homes, and six diagnostic and treatment centers. Prior to this role, Tasha served as CFO of OneCity Health, the performing provider system developed to collaborate with community-based organizations to provide longitudinal care to address patient health and social needs. Tasha's other healthcare experience include serving as a Corporate Compliance Officer, responsible for developing and implementing corporate policies, staff training, auditing and risk management. Tasha began her healthcare career journey at a local hospital where she managed an outpatient clinic and later moved into quality assurance, risk management and performance improvement at a Brooklyn-based nursing home.

Tasha is a graduate of the Zicklin School of Business at CUNY Baruch College, where she graduated with both a Bachelors in Finance and Administration and an Executive MBA in Healthcare Administration. Tasha enjoys yoga, visual arts, and spending time with family and friends.
